Discovering Red Dead Redemption 2 Treasure Map 3: A Complete Guide

Red Dead Redemption 2 is celebrated for its sprawling open world, gripping storyline, and countless side quests that keep players engaged for hours. Among these, the treasure hunt series is one of the most beloved, offering a blend of puzzle solving, exploration, and the classic thrill of finding hidden riches. If you've already chased the first two treasure maps, you're probably itching to uncover the secrets of Red Dead Redemption 2 Treasure Map 3. This guide will walk you through every detail—from where to locate the map, how to decode its clues, to the exact spot where the third chest awaits.

Understanding the Red Dead Redemption 2 Treasure Hunt Series

The treasure hunt in RDR2 is a three part quest chain that rewards players with a total of 7,000 gold. Each map leads to a hidden chest containing a substantial amount of gold and sometimes a unique item. The series is known for its realistic map mechanics, requiring players to physically travel to specific locations, decipher notes, and often solve environmental puzzles.

- Treasure Map 1: Leads to a chest worth 3,000 gold.
- Treasure Map 2: Leads to a chest worth 2,000 gold.
- Treasure Map 3: Leads to a chest worth 2,000 gold.

While the first two maps are relatively straightforward, the third map introduces a slightly more complex route and a unique island location that adds an extra layer of adventure.

What Exactly Is Treasure Map 3?

Treasure Map 3 is the final map in the Red Dead Redemption 2 treasure hunt series. It is obtained after you discover the second treasure chest and complete the associated quest. The map itself is a hand drawn parchment that, when examined, points to a hidden location on the island of San Andreas—one of the game's most remote and visually stunning areas.

Unlike the first two maps, which direct you to a location on the mainland, Treasure Map 3 requires you to cross a body of water, making it a bit more challenging and rewarding.

Key Features of Treasure Map 3

- Location: Island of San Andreas, near the mouth of the river.
- Reward: 2,000 gold in a hidden chest.
- Difficulty: Medium to hard due to the need for a boat or a good horse.
- Clues: The map contains a series of directional arrows and a cryptic phrase that hints at the exact spot.

Step by Step: How to Obtain Treasure Map 3

Below is a detailed walkthrough that ensures you acquire Treasure Map 3 without missing any crucial steps or clues.

1. Complete the First Two Treasure Hunts

Before you can access Treasure Map 3, you must finish the quests for Treasure Map 1 and Treasure Map 2. Here's a quick refresher:

1. Treasure Map 1: Find the map in the Horseshoe area, follow the clues to the Red Dead Redemption Treasure 1 chest.
2. Treasure Map 2: After opening the first chest, a new map appears in your inventory. Follow its directions to locate the second chest.

Once you open the second chest, a new quest will appear titled "Treasure Map 3". Accept it to begin the final leg.

2. Retrieve the Map from the Quest Log

Open your Map or Quest Log and locate the newly unlocked "Treasure Map 3" quest. The map is automatically added to your inventory, so you can access it from the Inventory tab.

3. Read the Map's Clues

Open the parchment and examine the drawn arrows. The map is divided into three main sections:

1. A small island with a distinctive rock formation.
2. A series of arrows pointing to a specific location on the island's shoreline.
3. A cryptic phrase: "Where the waves kiss the stone, the treasure lies beneath."

These clues indicate that the chest is hidden beneath a rock near the water's edge.

4. Travel to the Island of San Andreas

From the mainland, head to the San Andreas region. The island is located near the mouth of the river, just south of the town of Saint Denis. Use a boat or a sturdy horse to cross the water.

- Boat: If you have a boat, simply row to the island's coordinates: 46.4° N, 122.6° W.
- Horse: If you're riding a horse, use the Map to find the nearest shoreline and cross the water by following the map's arrows.

5. Locate the Exact Spot on the Island

Once on the island, search for the distinctive rock formation described in the map. Look for a large, flat rock that sits directly on the water's edge. The treasure chest is buried just below this rock.

Use the Map to pinpoint the coordinates: 46.5° N, 122.5° W. Walk to this location and look for a small indentation in the rock.

6. Dig Up the Treasure

Approach the indentation and use the RPG action button to dig. If you're playing on PC, press F(or the equivalent key). After a few seconds, a chest will appear.

Open the chest to claim your 2,000 gold reward. Congratulations—you've completed the third treasure hunt!

Treasure Map 3: In Depth Location Guide

For players who prefer a more visual approach, here's a comprehensive location guide with coordinates, terrain descriptions, and environmental cues.

Island Overview

The island of San Andreas is a small, rocky landmass with a rugged coastline. It's known for its dense pine forests, towering cliffs, and a single beach that offers a clear view of the sea.

Key Landmarks

- Large Flat Rock: The primary landmark for Treasure Map 3, located at the southern tip of the island.
- Waterfall: A small waterfall near the north shore, useful for orientation.
